PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE GREGG WELCH

Well, another year of ASHRAE is soon coming to an end. The April meeting will be our last official meeting for the year. The remaining two outings, which are both social outings, will be the fishing tournament in May & the golf tournament in June. Start thinking about getting those teams put together.

ASHRAE has a SATELLITE BROADCAST/WEBCAST: MOLD IN OUR BUILDING ENVIRONMENT on Wednesday, April 13, 2005, from 12:00 p.m. – 3:00 p.m. CST. Concerns about mold in the building environment are no longer limited to just humid environments. Mold is now a global concern for designers, contractors, building owners/operators and building occupants. Information on how to properly control moisture and humidity conditions in order to minimize mold will be presented in this broadcast sponsored by ASHRAE's Chapter Technology Transfer Committee (CTTC). The Trane Company has again offered their facility to host the broadcast.

Our final meeting is April 6th, 2005. The theme for the April meeting is "Student Night". The social hour will be at 5:30 p.m., dinner at 6:30 p.m., meeting and program to follow. The members' challenge for April's meeting is to make the students feel welcome. Spend some time mingling with the students. Remember, many of these students will be part of our industry.

A final note: Dave Rosenstein passed away this past week. Our thoughts and prayers go out to his wife, Lya and family. Dave was our third ASHRAE President, 1963-64. Dave was our first recipient of the South Dakota Chapter's "Lifetime Achievement" award. Mr. Rosenstein's contributions to the ASHRAE chapter and as a consulting engineer for many years are extraordinary.

See you at Westward Ho on Wednesday evening.

NEWSLETTER NEAL RABERN

I would like to first apologize for what I know was a major inconvenience caused by our email test last month. As of yet we have not been able to pin point the specific cause of the massive retransmission of the email. Between our own IT service and Level 1 support from Microsoft, they had found some evidence that there was an outside IP service resending the email back to our office. Now whether that means it was caught up in someones mail delivery system and being resent or if there was some kind spoofing/virus activity with this email, we don't know. Until I can be reassured that this incident will not happen again, I will fax out the Blueprint newsletter.

Please make sure that this newsletter is distributed to all the ASHRAE members within your organization.

Again, I would like to sincerely apologize for the major inconvenience.

SPECIAL EVENTS MICHAEL HEENEY

Just a reminder that the fishing tournament is scheduled for May 7th in Chamberlain, SD. If you have not made your reservation for at the River Ranch Resort yet, this must be done by Friday April 8th (1-605-734-6061). Also, please see the attached registration form for this year's annual golf outing, which is being held at the Brandon Golf Course on Friday June 3rd. If there are any questions please e-mail Michael Heeny at Michael@oconnorco.com.

Thanks again to David Day from Ebtron for last months program on IAQ.

April's program will be from Eric Ollerman with Data Center Systems. The title of his program will be Managing Extreme Heat: Cooling strategies for high-density systems.

With the increased watts per square foot of today's high end servers, infrastructure, air flow, and design of computer rooms have changed dramatically from years past.

Eric Ollerman is the principal for Data Center Systems, Inc. and has been providing mechanical and electrical solutions for data centers and telecommunication facilities since 1989.

April is the last program of the season and I just wanted to remind everyone that we get PAOE points for documenting committee member meetings with government officials. I sent out a form earlier in the year to keep track of these and would like to see them returned this month.
